

Protect your appliances and electronics from getting zapped.

Safeguard your stuff with the power of Surge Protection.

Progress Energy

Stop lightning surges before they enter your home.

Each year, lightning surges that travel through cables or wiring cause millions of dollars in damage to home appliances and sensitive electronics. Make sure you're not one of the unlucky ones who get hit with the unexpected costs of major repair or replacement – sign up for Progress Energy Surge Protection.

Our two-stage, state-of-the-art Surge Protection Service includes:

Meter-Base Protector – Installed behind your electric meter, this protector diverts the largest portion of a surge safely into the ground, safeguarding large appliances such as air conditioners and refrigerators. After a one-time installation fee of $44.95, the service costs just $5.95/month, plus tax.

Plug-In Protector – Even with our powerful meter-base protector installed outside, small surges can pass into interior wiring or enter through phone or cable lines. These smaller surges can be deadly to sensitive electronics such as TVs or computers. To protect them, count on our premium plug-in protectors, which are up to six times stronger than some found in retail stores. Prices vary depending on application.

Don't wait until storm season to see the damage that lightning surges can do to your appliances and electronics.
